41 Sustainable project of the year

43 Young achiever of the year

The time to celebrate has arrived here in Manchester for the Pitched Roofing Awards 2026.

Once again, we had a tremendous number of quality entries from pitched roofing contractors and manufacturers.

Merely being here today as a finalist is testament to your contribution to the UK built environment in delivering standout eye-catching roofs and buildings.

Unfortunately, we can only have so many winners, plus our outstanding contribution prizes, but, with more than a dozen categories to contend for there is every reason to be optimistic.

During the ceremony, which returns to the Midland Hotel for the sixth time, our guests today will be served a three-course lunch before the real treats begin.

Our celebrity host for the occasion is actor and comedian Dominic Holland, who is sure to find some amusing 'angles' for the entertainment before handing out the trophies to our winning contractors, manufacturers, people and innovative products.

Indeed, there are a wide scope of projects set to be rewarded including solar, heritage, lead metal, concrete, clay, slate and sustainability. It will also be a proud moment to crown the Pitched Roofing Award's first Young Achiever of the Year too.

We would like to thank our expert judging panel for their hard work in marking the entries, together with the industry sponsors who make all this happen.

Winning a Pitched Roofing Award, or even just being shortlisted, is only the start of your opportunity to share in best practice and be recognised as a top performer.

The entire RCI team, including events, editorial and commercial, is hugely excited to join you celebrating excellence in pitched roofing and will be here to help throughout the day

Visit www.pitchedroofingawards.co.uk for further details as the 2026 winners are announced and make sure to use the hashtag #PitchedRoofingAwards on LinkedIn.

Enjoy your well-deserved day away from the tools and we hope to see you again in 2027!

MEET THE JUDGES

BOB CURRY, MANAGING DIRECTOR, STONELEAF SLATES

Bob's journey in the roofing industry began back in 1981, as a trainee estimator with Hall & Co in Hove. Over the years, he progressed to become a Contracts Manager, working on a variety of projects. One of his earliest and certainly most memorable was the re-roofing of the Grand Hotel in Brighton following the IRA bombing. Installing Welsh Penrhyn slates, six storeys above the seafront in January, it was a brutal place to be, Bob reflects.

He subsequently worked with Marley, Ernest Wedge and RB Sentance before deciding to follow his passion for natural slate.

In 1999, Bob founded Stoneleaf Building Materials, specialising in natural roofing slate from Spain, Wales, and China. When one of the oldest slate merchants in Britain, Gordon H Richards became available, he purchased this in 2004. Since then, the business has continued to grow and diversify, expanding into premium clay roofing tiles from Germany, Spain and Poland, including products suitable for roof pitches as low as seven degrees.

JOHN MERCER, TECHNICAL ROOFING CONSULTANT

Having studied architecture at college during the 1970's, John went on to join a builder's merchants and then a roof tile manufacturer, clocking up over 40 years in the roofing industry.

From 1992 until 2018, John ran a busy technical department, dealing with all aspects of pitched roof construction, building up a detailed knowledge of roofing materials and systems. As a member of various BSI and CEN expert committees, John has an intimate knowledge of all relevant roofing Standards and Regulations.

John became an independent consultant specialising in tiled pitched roofing in 2018 and is now 'almost' retired.

CHRIS MILLER, DIRECTOR, THE ROOFING CO CONSULTANTS

With over 40 years of experience in the roofing industry, Chris is proud to run a family-owned specialist roofing business and serve as Chairman of the Master Roofers Association. His expertise lies in period, listed, heritage and ecclesiastical roofing projects, where traditional craftsmanship and attention to detail are essential. Throughout his career, Chris has delivered a wide range of bespoke roofing works and have been passionate about developing the next generation of roofers, training several award-winning apprentices. Dedicated to preserving traditional skills and high standards of workmanship, he remains committed to protecting and enhancing some of the country's most historic and important buildings.

JOSH MORRISON, DIRECTOR | NORTH WEST REGIONAL DIRECTOR & CHAIR, JR ROOFING LANCS | NRFC

Josh is the founder and director of JR Roofing Lancs, serving the Fylde Coast for 10 years. As the NFRC Regional Director and Chairman of the North West, he has been fighting to improve the roofing industry, the training available for young people, and helping spread awareness about rogue traders. Leading an award-winning business, Josh has gained many personal achievements such as: Red Rose Commitment to Skills Award, NFRC UK Roofing Local Hero Award, and more. He continuously ensures to provide high-quality roofing services, while serving the local community.

STEWART ROWLES, MANAGING DIRECTOR, MASTER ROOFERS UK

An experienced roofer and roof restoration specialist, Stewart Rowles has worked in the heritage roofing sector for over 25 years. He has worked on many prestigious buildings and projects, specialising in ornate leadwork and heritage slating and tiling, among other traditional skills. Stewart is also managing director at Master Roofers UK (MRUK), an online community of over 60,000 roofers and industry personnel.

Another initiative under the MRUK banner includes the Master Roofers Training Academy where Stewart and other tutors teach roofing skills to 100s of students each year. These and many other projects can be found at www.masterroofers.co.uk. Stewart is also the Managing Director of the Association of Master Roofers which is a trade association for contractor members who excel in specialist areas of roofing. The Association works with many other organisations in the UK who seek to retain heritage skills. Stewart also acts as technical consultant for many industry manufacturers and also carries out surveying and roof condition reports for many high profile projects within the heritage sector.

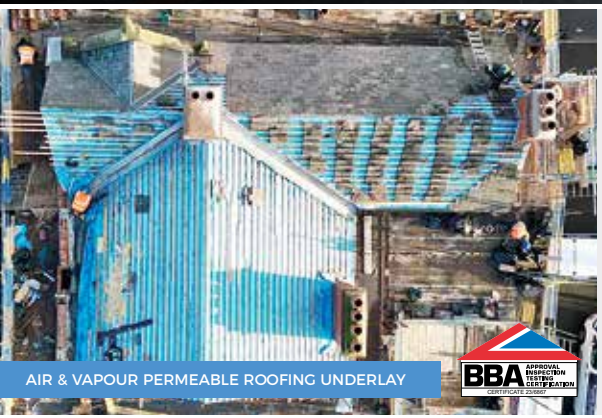
THE ARK

THE CHALLENGE

Refurbishing an occupied community building presents unique challenges, particularly when the facility provides essential day-to-day services for vulnerable people. The Ark remained fully operational throughout the reroofing programme, requiring careful planning and phased working to ensure staff, volunteers and service users could continue accessing the building safely without disruption.



AIR & VAPOUR PERMEABLE ROOFING UNDERLAY

BBA APPROVAL INSPECTION TESTING CERTIFICATION
CERTIFICATE 23/6667

THE SOLUTION

Permavent APEX was selected because its air and vapour permeable design made it particularly well suited to an occupied community building requiring effective moisture management. Installed beneath both retained and replacement natural Welsh slates, the underlay provides secondary weather protection while allowing moisture vapour to escape safely.

WHY APEX WAS CHOSEN

- ✓ Air and vapour permeable design technology with superior air impermeability
- ✓ Removed the need for additional low- and high-level roof ventilation
- ✓ Preserved the original appearance of the roof by eliminating modern PVC roof ventilators from the design

THE RESULT

The installation of Permavent APEX created a dry, air and vapour permeable roof structure capable of effectively managing moisture within the upgraded roof build-up. By reducing condensation risk and protecting insulation performance, the system contributes to the long-term durability of the roof while helping minimise future maintenance requirements.
