An Opportunity for Employers

For employers, offering Back-Up Care isn't just about providing a benefit - it's about creating a supportive environment that reduces absenteeism, enhances productivity, and strengthens your reputation as an employer who values their people - keeping talent loyal and attracting top candidates.

Did you know?

- 36% of working parents plan to look for new employment in the next year, and 70% of working parents consider their employer's support for family life before accepting or applying for a promotion or a new job.
- 43% of those with adult or eldercare responsibilities aim to look for new employment in the next year and nearly 7 in 10 (71%) consider their adult care needs before accepting a job or promotion.

Why do employers invest in Back-Up Care?

In today's world, where work and life are more intertwined than ever, Back-Up Care is more than just a benefit - it's a business enabler.

Drives gender equity & leadership progression

Access to care can be a make-or-break factor in career progression, especially for women. Employers tell us Back-Up Care plays a crucial role in advancing women into leadership by easing common care barriers.

Supports in-person or hybrid working

As more teams return to the office, dependable care gives employees the confidence to commit to in-person schedules, without the stress of scrambling for last-minute help.

Reduces absenteeism

One of the top causes of unplanned absence? Care breakdowns. Back-Up Care helps avoid lost workdays and keeps projects on track. 100% of employers report a reduction in care-related absenteeism.

Increases employee wellbeing and productivity

Back-Up Care keeps employees focused and stress-free by removing the worry of unexpected care disruptions. With dependable support in place, they can stay present, engaged, and productive. The result? A healthier, more resilient workforce - and a stronger, more reliable business.

Attracts and Retains Top Talent

Back-Up Care is one of the most valued benefits by working parents and carers. It shows your people you have their back - building loyalty, lowering turnover, and boosting your reputation as an employer of choice.

Every provider is carefully selected and quality-assured: our nannies are experienced, reference-checked, hold enhanced DBS clearance and up-to-date first aid certifications. Families also gain access to nearly 300 Bright Horizons Day Nurseries and Preschools for off-site care.

1,067 nurseries

222 childminders

38 nanny agencies

1,670 holiday clubs

600 adult/elder care offices

Each care option is regulated by Ofsted or the appropriate governing body, and many of our providers come personally recommended by the families who've used them. It's dependable care that meets the highest standards for safety and professionalism - delivered with inclusivity, flexibility, and peace of mind at its heart.

How does it work?

Back-Up Care is easy to implement and provides employees with allocated days of reliable care coverage per year. When life affects regular care plans, employees can access alternative options, whether for children, elderly relatives, or pets, without missing work or relying on annual leave. Employees simply request the care days they need, and the process ensures they can return to their responsibilities at work with minimal disruptions to their productivity, presence and wellbeing.

1. Registration

Employees are encouraged to register in advance - so that when a care emergency arises, everything's already in place. This saves valuable time and ensures that family details are securely recorded, speeding up the care request process.

2. Booking

Booking care is simple and flexible. Employees can request care online, by phone, or via our mobile Back-Up Care app (available on iOS and Android). Care can be booked up to one month in advance - or longer, if your company offers an extended booking window of up to three months.

Our average time to fill a booking request is 1 day, and in 2025, we achieved a 97% fulfillment rate.

3. Feedback

After every care session, families receive a short feedback survey. We use this insight to monitor satisfaction and improve the experience at every stage, from booking to care delivery.

4. Experience

- Employees contact our 24/7 service when they need care.
- Our trained Care Consultants arrange everything with professionalism and empathy.
- Every experience is supported, tracked, and measured to ensure high satisfaction, and results are shared with employers to maintain transparency and excellence.

"My partner and I have found this benefit absolutely invaluable, having recently returned to work from mat leave (especially with no family support or crèche place). If it wasn't for this service, I'd easily have missed at least 6 – 7 full days of work in the last 6 months due to our childminder being unavailable. It would also have impacted my ability to meet certain work commitments. Every company should have this service for its staff."

- Back-Up Care User Review

"I have recommended the programme to contacts in other companies – it's an ideal way for an employer to support the lifestyle balance of their employees, showing that they care what happens at home as well as at work. We've never had a benefit like this before - what Bright Horizons offers is perfect...I think it works and I'm always learning more about it."
