Submission	UNIMAS has adopted the 3Es (Engagement, Enrichment, Encouragement) strategy in pursuit of quality and equitable education. Engagement focuses on providing awareness and the essentials for our stakeholders to adopt a change. A university-wide survey on students' online learning readiness was conducted to obtain contextual information that can inform on appropriate online course design and delivery, and necessary interventions to be taken without causing more problems for the stakeholders. Enrichment emphasises the provision of various means to sustain and consolidate change, by supporting academics with tools and pedagogical assistance as they transition their teaching content to the online environment. Encouragement anchors the change into the university's culture, with academics recognised for their efforts to introduce innovative approaches where in-person teaching was not feasible. A total of 4,113 online sessions, 7,606 online activities were successfully implemented during this period, involving 13,334 students.
