

THE AWARDS 2021

Outstanding Research Supervisor of the Year

| | |
|---|--|
| Institution name | Corina Sas, Lancaster University |
| Submission title or project name | |
| Nominee/key personnel | |
| URL | |
| Submission | Corina started her academic career at Lancaster University as a lecturer in 2004, and in 2017 became the first female Professor in the School of Computing and Communication, having expertise in Human-Computer Interaction and Digital Health. Her contributions to PhD supervision includes driving and facilitating a most supportive, stimulating and inspirational research culture for doctoral training. This has been achieved at European level, as PI and Coordinator of two highly prestigious EC-funded Innovative Training Networks (over €7.12M) designed to provide exceptional quality of interdisciplinary training to 28 PhD students with diverse academic and cultural background. Through her roles at Faculty and School level Corina has also contributed to a vibrant and inclusive culture of research excellence. The quality of Corina's supervision is reflected in the award-winning research outcomes shared and celebrated with her students, as well as in their research partnerships continuing long after graduation. |