Submission	Professor Christine Le Maitre is an inspirational, award-winning research supervisor at Sheffield Hallam University. She is an outstanding mentor to students from diverse backgrounds, with a reputation for consistently going 'above and beyond'. Reflecting this, Christine has been nominated by students for the Sheffield Hallam Inspirational Supervisor Award nine years running, winning the prestigious award twice. She has also led her department to the top of national postgraduate student satisfaction ratings. Christine's students have come from a variety of backgrounds, with nearly half being international, including from countries that have experienced conflict. Student feedback demonstrates that she has provided exceptional support, particularly to those facing a myriad of life challenges. She is also leading efforts to promote wellbeing within research on an institution wide basis, leading the University Postgraduate Research Mental Health and Wellbeing Group and producing an Institutional Action Plan to help address the issue.
