URL
Submission	Jan Timms is a Clinical Simulation Team Technical Manager at Sheffield Hallam, supporting the College of Health, Wellbeing and Life Sciences. Jan is an inspirational member of staff who thrives on creating logical solutions to any challenge. Her drive for quality and will to consistently go above and beyond the call of duty has brought about many standout innovations. These include creating and coordinating new learning experiences around campus, developing award-winning integrated training (which is being rolled out across the College) and, more recently, rapidly delivering the support required to enable more than 600 Sheffield Hallam healthcare students to volunteer and join the NHS workforce early in order to support the Covid-19 effort. Jan is the embodiment of Sheffield Hallam's ambition to become the World's leading applied university, providing innovative, practical solutions to solve real-world challenges. Her approach has won plaudits from peers and colleagues across the university.
