Who is Terryberry.

A leader in employee engagement for over 100 years.

As a company with over 100 years of history, it's important to us to not rest on our laurels. In fact, rather than falling behind, we use our century of experience to help push us for better - we're dedicated to always looking to the future, while remembering our past.

This means we've been listening to our customers, and we've been paying attention to market changes. This has led us to become a market leader in employee engagement across the globe.

Whether it's a small step toward a big vision or a big step toward a complete solution that transforms engagement, we'll help you accomplish your goals — together.

Why Employee Benefits Matters

Current Market

As we continue to adapt to the new way of working, employees are looking for more than just a base salary. With everyday factors affecting people's lives, employees look to their employers to provide them with benefits that support their day-to-day lives. That's where employee benefits come in.

70% of employees are more likely to stay with a company that offers well-structured benefit packages.¹

of candidates consider employee benefits as a crucial factor when evaluating job offers.²

74% employees would like the option to drive an EV via salary sacrifice.³

65% of employees now stress the importance of financial wellbeing to help combat the rising cost of living, housing, travel, childcare, and inflation.⁴

of employees are 'very satisfied' or 'somewhat satisfied' with their employee benefits.⁵
