Home, sweet new home...

There is no place like home... but during the hectic franticness of a move, your home can really get turned upside-down, with all of your beloved items packed away into boxes as you prepare to relocate somewhere new. Making the whole process as smooth and stress-free as possible is therefore important and can make all the difference.

Atlas International Movers will take care and totally unburden you the entire moving process, from door to door. You will be assigned a personal moving coordinator who will help you with every step of the move. This fixed contact will coordinate and supervise every phase, including customs clearance procedures in the country of destination. We will only be satisfied when you are, and once everything is back in its right place in your new home.

Atlas International Movers is specialized in international relocations. Our reputation has been earned through quality, reliability and a high level of service. With our proven track record and years of experience helping families relocate abroad to destinations all over the world, you can rest easy knowing that your move and your goods are in good hands.

By road or by sea?

We will discuss with you in advance what the best option will be for transporting your goods. For relocations within the Netherlands and Europe, we will always transport your goods by road. For overseas relocations, you can choose between sea freight or airfreight. If you are moving items that you will be needing again quickly at the place of destination, then airfreight is the best option for you. If you are in less of a hurry, then sea freight is best.

For sea freight, you can choose between:

- Full container load (FCL): This gives you exclusive use of a shipping container. A reassuring feeling if you have a large amount of cargo that you are moving.
- Less-than container load (LCL): This is for smaller-scale moves, with items placed in a wooden or strong cardboard crate.
- Groupage: The most economical option for smaller-scale moves, with cargo items loaded separately in free container space together with other clients' goods to be transported on the same shipping route.

Regardless of which transport method you choose, Atlas International Movers will ensure that your goods are treated carefully and safely during transit.

Packed with care

Of course you expect to see your belongings back again in your new home in one piece. That is why Atlas International Movers takes the utmost care when packing your goods. Our packers are all experienced and certified professional movers. They follow yearly refresher courses in order to prove that they meet the highest quality standards. Atlas International Movers furthermore only uses the best quality packing materials to provide the best protection for your movables. For example, we always pack highly valuable or fragile items, such as antiques or art pieces, in custom-made wooden crates.

Our packing services comprise:

- Preparation of moving activities and protection of your home;
- Packing of your goods in sturdy, specially custom-made moving boxes;
- Full protection and wrapping of your furniture items in sturdy cardboard and high-quality paper blankets;
- Compilation of detailed packing lists (e.g. of house contents packed per box, etc.).

We have fun toy boxes for the kids to help involve them in the moving process. We know from experience that moving can often be hard on them. They can pack their favorite toys into the multi-faceted boxes, and we will make sure to load them into the truck until the very end, so that they will be the first boxes to be opened at the new home.

Shipping home your belongings

Atlas International Movers will ideally load your house contents into the moving truck or shipping container in front of your residence. You will be given copies of the packing lists that we made during packing, which will allow you to easily find all of your items once they have arrived at the destination. These same lists are also presented to customs for clearance of your goods.

For overseas relocations, it is not always possible to load your cargo directly from your home (e.g. due to space constraints preventing a shipping container or moving truck from being placed nearby). In such a case, we will load your cargo into one of our smaller moving vans to take to our storage facility, where we will then carefully transfer the goods into the shipping container.

Customs clearance – a breeze

To help make the entire moving process as smooth as possible, we will also assist you with the necessary preparations for customs clearance. We will help you fill out the customs forms and give you information about which documents and forms you will need in the country of destination. You can be assured that this information is always up-to-date, so that your goods can quickly pass through and be cleared by customs. Upon arrival of your shipping container to the port of destination, Atlas International Movers will take care of the customs procedure and of the transport of the container to your new home address.

Arrival at the place of destination

Door-to-door service – that is what you can count on us for. We will do everything we can to have you feeling right back at home in your new house. As part of our all-inclusive service, once your goods have arrived at the new house Atlas International Movers will carefully unpack your goods and put them in their right place. Disassembled furniture will be reassembled, and all packing material will be cleaned up to take back with us.

Insured, and reassured

Atlas International Movers will handle your personal effects with the utmost care possible. Despite our best efforts, however, we cannot guarantee that something won't happen underway that could cause damage to your goods. That's why with Atlas International Movers you are also able to take out a comprehensive all-risk transport insurance policy that covers all of the moving risks from door to door.

This policy offers:

- All-risk coverage starting from the time of packing of your goods through to delivery at the place of destination;
- Reimbursement of new-condition replacement value applicable at the place of destination of the packed house contents (based on your appraisal).

This policy also offers different options which you can use to tailor the coverage to your specific situation.

Options:

- Increase the coverage on your valuables;
- Coverage of technical damage to electrical devices;
- Insure Pairs & Sets as a whole: for example, if one dining table chair is lost in transit, you will be reimbursed for the entire set;
- All-risk coverage during storage of your goods.

Additional services

Every move is different, and that is why we at Atlas International Movers offer customers a number of additional optional services:

- Cleaning of the new and/or old home
- Moving of your piano
- Transport and storage of your car
- Special packing of art pieces
- Transport of your pet

If there are things you would like that are not listed above, please do not hesitate to contact us to ask about the options. It may be likely that we will be able to take care of it for you after all.

Back to work ASAP

We also accommodate HR and facility managers in their corporate relocations. If you have personnel who are preparing to relocate to a company location abroad, Atlas International Movers can ensure a worry-free relocation process, so that your employees can quickly and smoothly get back to work as usual at the new premises. You can leave issues like customs clearance and unpacking of your office supplies to us, further allowing business operations to continue as normal as possible without distractions.

A relocation abroad is much more than just moving effects to a new location – it is about moving your entire personal life. That is why Atlas International Movers offers 'Destination Services': services to help you set up certain practical aspects of your and your employees' new life in the new country. This includes, for example, arranging child daycare, TV & internet subscriptions, registration with a local sports club, etc. This will help to acclimatize your employees more quickly, wherever in the world the new destination is. All our expat customers can attest – our approach really works!

Looking for storage space?

Looking for temporary or long-term secure storage of your goods? For example, because you are moving, but your new home is not ready to move into yet? Or because you don't yet have all your documentation ready to be able to clear your goods through customs? You can then opt to put up your goods in storage. Atlas International Movers can arrange this for you as well.

Atlas International Movers has storage units both for small and large cargos. Our storage facilities are located adjacent to our offices situated off the A4 motorway near Schiphol Airport. Your storage unit contents will remain in perfectly original condition thanks to the climate control system, and the stringent security measures will guarantee that your goods remain safe. You will also have access to your unit at all times.

We can accommodate the storage of:

- your home contents for short-term or longer periods;
- your car or motorcycle;
- antiques and art pieces.
