Why do I need a backup solution for my Office 365 mailboxes and files?

There's a common misconception that Microsoft fully backs up Office 365 data as part of the subscription, but this is not the case.

- Microsoft doesn't provide native options to back up Office 365 mailboxes or files – Microsoft is responsible for providing the necessary infrastructure and ensuring Office 365 works, but it's your responsibility to protect your Office 365 data.
- Microsoft cannot help with unexpected data loss or damage – Having a solid backup solution in place ensures that even if mailbox items or files disappear from the network or are rendered useless, you have access to a backed-up copy, eliminating problems or repercussions that could arise from the missing data.
- Problems with accessing and searching email data – Without a single backup location for a company's Office 365 data, this data cannot be protected and stored centrally for easy access, searching and recovery.

That's why you need to back up your Office 365 data.

How Altaro Office 365 backup helps you

As Microsoft does not offer its subscribers Office 365 backup and recovery services, you need your own reliable setup to deal with unexpected data loss or damage. Altaro provides the backup and recovery solution you need, giving you peace of mind should your Office 365 data be lost or damaged.

- Office 365 backups: Automatic backups – simply "set it and forget it", while enjoying peace of mind thanks to a low recovery point objective (RPO) in case of data loss or damage.
- Fast and simple recovery: Various restore options for entire mailboxes and granular restore of selected mail items, as well as files in OneDrive and SharePoint.
- Sturdy backup storage: You don't need to set up your own backup storage servers as your Office 365 backups are automatically saved to a secure cloud backup location managed by Altaro.
- Ease of access: By backing up all a company's Office 365 data into one location, this data can be managed, monitored, protected and stored centrally, for easy access, searching and recovery.
- Great value: For an all-inclusive annual or multi-year subscription, you get Office 365 backups, storage, management console access and 24/7 support with a call response of less than 30 seconds.
