

TESTING Health Check

We can help improve your software testing process and quality assurance approach by reviewing the current health of your practices and providing a roadmap for immediate improvements.

Establish the current state of your testing

In today's world of Agile, DevOps, Microservices, Containerisation and Orchestration, organisations are facing new challenges when assuring the quality of applications and solutions. If you need to understand why there are quality issues slipping into live, or problems within your delivery lifecycle, then an unbiased review can help.

Core objectives

- Advise on implementing best practice and procedures that can be used across the business
- Assess overall testing coverage and where it can be improved
- Identify main areas of risk and suggest actions to mitigate these
- Reduce number of defects during the SDLC – deploying shift-left principals
- Increase business confidence in testing
- Identify quick wins
- Identify efficiencies and potential cost savings
- Tooling and licencing to bring in best of breed and cost efficiencies

The benefits

- Validate and verify agreed processes to follow
- Identify gaps and weaknesses in quality management and testing
- Identify existing strengths
- Identify opportunities to improve cycle time by use of technology
- Identify opportunities to improve efficiency and effectiveness of testing
- Provides a roadmap to improve quality

An impartial view

nFocus are independent and completely tool agnostic. Having worked with hundreds of organisations, we not only understand best practice but also how to implement this to get the most from your investment.

We use a consistent, scalable and fact based review process that has been honed across each methodology, including DevOps, technology stack and across the lifecycle. nFocus' health check can be undertaken at project, programme or company level.

We can identify existing strengths and weaknesses, gaps, and areas for improvement that will give an immediate improvement to your organisation. Not only will we provide opportunities for efficiency and effectiveness gains, but we will also provide you a roadmap that can be worked on internally to give medium to long term improvements.

Experts in our field

We're a multi award-winning testing consultancy and have been named Leading Vendor by the European Software Testing Awards twice as well as being regularly featured in the Test Magazine's 20 Leading Testing Providers.

- Longest established UK-owned pure play testing consultancy
- Specialist QA and testing consultancy for over 21 years
- The only company to win Leading Vendor at the European Software Testing Awards on two separate occasions
- Managing a team of over 120 UK based consultants
- Vast domain experience
- We are truly independent and only deliver testing services
- Experience of working within all processes and methodologies
- Our speciality is providing the right expertise on site in the UK

Get in touch to discuss our Testing Health Check, or talk through your situation with one of our specialists.