

FLEXIBLE TEST Resource

Flex, scale and manage the peaks and troughs of your software delivery requirements by calling on the skills of a multi award-winning, trusted partner that specialises in software quality. Delivering a greater customer experience through getting products and services to market faster without compromising quality.

Business demand

Business demands and challenges require organisations to be fast and flexible. This has meant they need a resourcing approach that combines a core group of permanent employees with a contingent workforce to scale as needed. However, finding and retaining skilled, experienced and well-trained professionals is time consuming and expensive. To solve this problem, nFocus provide a scalable resourcing approach covering all project members within the delivery team.

Guaranteed quality and reliability

All team members are known and a proven entity to nFocus and come with our seal of approval. As a consultancy focused on quality, we recognise the skills, expertise, and knowledge needed within each delivery role to ensure a successful project.

We ensure all personnel have these traits. Our approach gives you access to a wider talent pool and optimum resourcing enables you to cope with staff shortages.

This approach has won us Leading Vendor at the European Software Testing Awards, Microsoft Worldwide Partner of the Year and we've been regularly featured in Test Magazine's 20 Leading Testing Providers.
