

Essential Guide for Live emap Events

Last updated: 15 March 2022

The below guidelines are under constant review and may have changed since you last attended a Property Week event, even if that event was recent, so please read the below information carefully before you arrive onsite.

On 24 February 2022 the UK Government lifted all COVID restrictions, including those in place for live events.

We are committed to the safety of both our guests and employees, and we continue to keep your safety at the forefront of our plans.

With this in mind, we kindly encourage our attendees to take a lateral flow test before attending. Face masks are not mandatory but are welcomed if it is your personal preference to wear one.

We work with our venues to ensure cleaning and hygiene processes are in place and that hand sanitiser is widely available.

By attending our event, you confirm that:

- you are free of all COVID-19 symptoms, including a fever, a new continuous cough, shortness of breath, loss of their sense of taste and smell
- you are not awaiting the result of a COVID-19 test
- you have not been in contact with someone who has recently tested positive for COVID-19 or is experiencing any COVID-19 symptoms

If you are travelling from overseas for the event please check your country's advice for guidance on travelling, as well as the latest government guidance on entering the UK. Information on travelling to the UK can be found here.

We want our attendees to be confident in attending our events and have created emap Secure, the health and safety standards for our live events, developed to address the risk posed by COVID-19 and to keep all our guests safe. This document can be accessed here.
