The Safety and Health Excellence Awards return for the ninth year. Such has been the continued growth in popularity of the awards, we're excited to announce that in 2026, the awards gala dinner will be held at the Coventry Building Society Arena, a much larger venue that can accommodate what is now the biggest awards in the health and safety sector! These prestigious awards will again encompass the long-established British Safety Industry Federation (BSIF) Awards that promote the importance of innovation and underline the very highest standards of excellence within occupational safety and health.

The awards will be held on 1 July 2026 on the evening of our popular one-day conference and exhibition, HSM Live Coventry 2026. Combining these two key industry events will provide an ideal opportunity for the industry to gather and celebrate excellence!

YOUR HOST: KATHERINE RYAN

We are thrilled to announce that Katherine will not only Host the awards but also entertain our guests with an hilarious comedy set. The pop-culture-obsessed Canadian comic, writer, presenter, and actor boasts dozens of panel show appearances, from QI and Have I Got News to A League of Their Own. She has starred in her own Netflix specials In Trouble and Glitter Room and has presented the documentary How'd You Get So Rich? Having stormed Live At The Apollo multiple times, she is frequently likened by the press to Joan Rivers. The Guardian has described Katherine as "a comic in supreme command".
