

MINING JOURNAL SELECT SYDNEY 2020 has been postponed.

To all our valued partners and attendees;

Over the last few weeks we have been monitoring and reacting to guidelines set by the Australian government and in regard to COVID-19. Today the government has announced its decision to restrict public gatherings of over 500 people in order to help delay the spread the coronavirus.

We have also been listening to the feedback from our sponsorship partners and delegates over the difficulties of their own travel arrangement and overriding concerns in light of recent events.

Above all, the welfare and safety of our delegates, speakers, exhibitors and staff is paramount. The recent spread of the coronavirus in Sydney and the pace of its growth over the last few days, has led us to the regrettable decision that we must postpone our event until such time as the situation improves

We are now in unprecedented times where global decisions by governments are being taken with incredible speed and with significant ramifications.

Rest assured that all delegate and sponsorship agreements will remain in-tact and will be transferred to the new revised date for the event. This new date will be confirmed in the next 2-3 weeks but please do bear with us as we continue to finalise timings.

The Mining Journal Select show was set - and will be – our largest event to date. We are proud of the community of speakers, exhibitors and delegates that have registered to take part in this event so far. Some of the most high profile members of our industry and some of the most innovative companies.

We are therefore excited by the opportunity of working to further build on this great audience base to make the now postponed Mining Journal Select even bigger and better that it was schedule to be on the 23rd March

We would like to thank you for your patience, understanding and support over a such a challenging period and we look forward to welcoming you all to MJS Sydney in the near future.

Thank you for your understanding and if you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact us on events@aspermontmedia.com

Regards,

Mining Journal Select Team
