

Streaming & Hybrid Services

A Changing World

In the world of change caused by COVID-19, we have been creating virtual or hybrid engaging events, conferences and exhibitions for clients throughout the UK. We can use our studio facilities and a combination of other live resources to take your event totally online, or give your presenters a live space to present to a virtual audience.

Using multiple options on platforms to stream to, we will produce your event, taking content and contributors' feeds to give it the feel of a live audience. Breakout rooms and sponsor pods are possible to maximise the draw of the event.

We choose the right platform for you, we don't force you to use the platform adopted by us.

What however will engage with audiences is the hybrid option, something that can keep people tuned into their screen, we are looking to team up with venues and organisers to create that unique feel and draw, to keep clients engaged with your message.

HYBRID PRESENTATIONS

Studio Based

With a multitude of streaming services and online tools available, we will help you manage the required output through the right channels. We can edit and mix the show from our media suite in Reading or we can give you hybrid studio space in Wimbledon or Manchester.

The studio space enables the presenters, hosts and panels to be in a live environment to make the stream more engaging to all the audience, as well as being able to bring in more technology to make it more like a TV studio environment.

We have made sure all our facilities are co-vid secure for your peace of mind.
